SHIPPING FAQ's

COVID-19 Service Update

During this critical global health crisis, our Greenville parts team and service providers are doing their utmost to ensure the safety of our employees and customers. Included in the good news is that the shipping vendors we use (FedEx, USPS, UPS, and DHL) are considered essential services and are working hard to continue services as undisrupted as possible. Unfortunately, their shipping services have been affected - both within the United States and internationally - by airline cancellations and regional restrictions stemming from the COVID-19 pandemic. Due to these realities, we can not guarantee normal delivery time frames until further notice. We thank you for your patience as we continue to do our best to get your parts to you as quickly as possible!

We DO NOT Accept Returns on OPENED Electrical and Electronic Parts - No Exceptions

If you plug in the part or open or tear or unseal the plastic or shrink wrap on an electrical or electronic part you CAN NOT return the part for any reason. Instead of using proper diagnostic procedures, some people resort to trial-and-error parts swapping when they don't know how to fix an electrical problem. When parts they have installed do not fix their problem, they want to return them and try something else. Electrical parts are easily damaged by improper installation or testing therefore we can not accept returns on these items unless they are NOT plunged-in, opened or unsealed.

How Should I Ship Back My Return?

1. Check that all of the parts you wish to return are included in your Return e-mail.
2. We strongly recommend that you return your item with a shipping carrier that can provide you with insurance and a tracking number in case of loss or damage.
3. All returns should be able to be tracked from the time you ship your return until it is signed for on the dock.
4. Please make sure to clearly write the correct return number on the outside of the shipping box which will be provided to you.
5. Please do not write on the "boxes" your parts come in as your product will not be considered "resalable".
6. All returns are freight prepaid by the customer. We do not offer return shipping reimbursement regardless of the party at fault.

When will I get my Return number?

Most Return numbers are issued within 2-4 business days. (On some items it may take longer than 4 days) Your Return number along with complete return instructions will be e-mailed to you. What do I do?

Please be aware that we are not responsible for losses that occur as a result of packages being left in your absence. It is your responsibility to have someone present at time of delivery. You can contact us via the support to obtain a tracking number to find out exactly when delivery is scheduled to your home or place of business. If your package is left by the shipper unsigned, or signed fraudulently and ends up lost you will not be reimbursed for freight or parts. We can, however, file a lost or damage claim with the particular shipper, but their decision is solely based on their information and findings. First, check around your property for any packages that may have been placed out of sight. Second, check with your neighbors to see if your package was accidentally delivered to their residences. If you still cannot locate the package, you will have to call the shipping company, and they should send the driver back out to your residence within 24 hours. If the driver cannot locate the package, a claim will be initiated with the shipping company. Claims take approximately 30 days to settle. We are not responsible for replacing any lost orders while your claim is processing. All replacement parts will have to be reordered until your claim is settled.

What if my part fails? What type of warranty does my part have?

Most of our parts (but not all) come with 30-60 days warranty excluding wear and tear items. Depending on the type of product you purchased, you may also have an extended warranty if you purchased one. Please also refer to the manufacturer information that was included with your product for additional information. If your part fails we will issue you an Return number to return the product. Faulty parts and improperly installed parts return decisions are left up to the particular manufacturers' rules and regulations. We process the return for you by accepting the part and then forward the part directly to the manufacturer for final approval. Installation of auto parts should be handled by a Certified Automotive Technician, and you should maintain a copy of the repair order after the repair is completed for your records. Especially, with items such as ECM's, A/C Compressors, Receiver Dryers, etc. where misdiagnosis and/or installation can easily damage a part. Remember, that having a certified technician install a part does not necessarily mean it was properly installed, but it will eliminate more of the common errors. On occasion, we may ask for the original repair order and other documentation regarding the repair to be sent to us in order to process the return. If your part is found to be defective you will receive a full refund. All replacement items must be re-purchased. We do not send out free replacements.

What if my part arrives damaged?

If your order arrives damaged or opened, immediately tell the driver that you are refusing the package due to damage. Do NOT accept the package. If a damaged or opened package has been left in your absence, you will have to contact the shipping company. You have 24 hours to notify us that you received a damaged product. We will not accept responsibility for any damaged claims after 24 hours. No exceptions.

How long do part refunds take?

Most return refunds are processed within 14 days or less after the warehouse receives them back. Some refunds may take longer. Credit card refunds may take up to 2-7 business days to show up on your statement AFTER we process the credit. This is beyond our control. All refunds are applied in the same manner you paid (e.g., if you paid with a check, you will receive a check refund). You should receive an e-mail the day your refund is processed.
